

Brig. Gen. Bryan T. Roberts was suspended today of his duties as Commanding General, U.S. Army Training Center and Fort Jackson, Fort Jackson, S.C. He was suspended by the Commander of U.S. Army Training and Doctrine Command, Gen. Robert W. Cone, due to allegations of misconduct. The allegations include adultery and a physical altercation, and are being thoroughly investigated. While the investigation is ongoing, Brig. Gen. Peggy C. Combs, Commandant of the U.S. Army Chemical, Biological, Radiological and Nuclear School, Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., will serve as the interim commander until the investigation is complete and the issue resolved.

Harvey Perritt
Deputy Chief, Public Affairs
Headquarters, U.S. Army Training and Doctrine Command Fort
Eustis, VA